Join us for the 2007 Conference on Learning Disabilities "The LD Challenge: Together We're Up For It"

The Learning Disabilities Association of Alberta (LDAA) and the LDAA - Calgary Chapter are pleased to announce the 2007 Conference on Learning Disabilities (LD) scheduled for October 31 - November 2, 2007 at the Telus Convention Centre in Calgary. Keynote speakers at the Conference are Dr. Mel Levine, Dr. Bonnie Kaplan, and Mr. Henry Winkler

Mr. Henry Winkler will deliver the keynote address at the opening reception Wednesday night. While conference delegates receive free admission to this event, there are tickets available to the general public for this evening only. Tickets can be purchased at www.ticketmaster.ca.

Thursday will feature an all-day workshop by Dr. Mel Levine, who will talk about LD in school.

Friday morning will open with a keynote address from Dr. Bonnie Kaplan who will speak on "How LD Research Could Have Been More Productive in the Last 30 Years".

Following Dr. Kaplan's address a large number of sessions on a wide diversity of topics all directly related to LD and lead by skilled and knowledgeable speakers featuring will be held throughout the day.

To add even more value to the Conference a symposium for psychologists has been organized focusing on the "Challenges in the Assessment of Students with Learning Disabilities". This all-day symposium is targeted to psychologists who assess students encountering learning difficulties.

In addition to having the opportunity to engage with this tremendous variety of expertise, the Conference also offers the President's Breakfast, where selected leaders in the LD community are recognized for their work, and an exhibitor area which will be the home to many exhibitors throughout the Conference.

Additional conference information can be found at: www.ldaa.ca/conference.htm. We look forward to seeing you there!
